

anxious to avail herself of every opportunity of learning her business practically. After a most distinguished course she has graduated with the greatest distinction.

I have carefully watched Miss Dickson's course and feel bound to say that the result has been to banish any prejudice I might have entertained against the entrance of women into the medical profession

C. B. Ball M.D. F.R.C.S